

Please do not allow cell phones on commercial flights. It is bad enough that I have to hear one sided arguments with someone and their spouse or business colleague in the airport or in the plane during the limited time they can use their cell phone now. Life is annoying enough already and it will create more incidents of air rage. I am not a violent man, but I fear that I may shove a cell phone down someone's throat on an airplane if I get the chance. Don't Help a Good Man Go Bad.....
